MARC D. JAFFE

Marc Jaffe, Managing Partner of Latham & Watkins' New York office and an industry-leading capital markets practitioner, represents clients in their most sophisticated capital markets and financing transactions. He regularly guides prominent US and international companies, investment banks, private equity and venture capital funds, and other investors on the high-profile and precedent-setting corporate matters that define global markets. Marc previously served as Global Chair of Latham's Corporate Department and Global Co-Chair of the firm's Capital Markets Practice.

His broad industry experience spans the technology, entertainment, retail and consumer, financial services, gaming, hospitality, manufacturing, energy, and media and telecommunications sectors, and he advises clients on initial public offerings, secondary and follow-on offerings, private placements, debt offerings, and restructurings. Marc also advises companies on general corporate and securities matters.

Marc also maintains an active Israel practice, advising emerging and established Israel-based issuers on corporate finance transactions and helping to solidify Latham's position as the top firm for Israeli IPOs in the US market for the past five years.

Marc regularly garners recognition from leading legal publications, including having been named a Star Individual in Capital Markets: Debt & Equity by Chambers USA 2024 and a Distinguished Leader by the New York Law Journal. He was twice named Dealmaker of the Year by The American Lawyer for representing Manchester United in its landmark IPO and for representing Rivian Automotive in one of the largest technology IPOs in history. The Legal 500 US named Marc to its Hall of Fame, describing him as "pre-eminent in the capital markets space."

Marc and his family's dedication to the community through civic, educational, and charitable work embodies the spirit of tikkun olam and the meaning of the Judge Learned Hand Award. Since 2023, Marc has served on the Board of Trustees for Bates College. His philanthropic efforts include supporting, among other charitable causes, White Plains Hospital, Westchester Medical Center, and various educational institutions and Jewish-focused charities, including Livnot U'Lehibanot, where his wife Tracy sits on the US board.

Marc received his A.B. from Harvard University, concentrating in government, and his J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School. He is married to Tracy Mencher Jaffe, and the couple lives in Scarsdale, N.Y., where they raised their three children, Hayley, a 1L at Harvard Law School; Daniel, a commercial real estate analyst at CBRE in NYC; and Noah, a senior at Bates College.

American Jewish Committee (AJC) is the global advocacy organization for the Jewish people.

From world capitals to college campuses, AJC works with leaders across society to stand up for Israel; confront antisemitism, no matter the source; and uphold the democratic values that unite us.

In the wake of Hamas' October 7 attack—the worst massacre of Jews since the Holocaust—AJC has mobilized its global network to tackle the unprecedented threats facing world Jewry. Join us. Together, we can shape a new future for Israel and the Jewish people.
